

Firm History

Schenck, Price, Smith & King, was founded over one hundred and five years ago as the firm of King & Vogt with offices on the historic central “Green” in Morristown, New Jersey. The law firm occupied a position of prominence in downtown Morristown for more than ninety-eight years as it grew from a two-person law firm to a full-service firm of approximately 83 attorneys with offices in New Jersey and downtown Manhattan. In 2010, Schenck, Price moved from its original location in Morristown to a modern office facility a short distance away in Florham Park near to the Morristown Airport. Florham Park sits in the center of northern New Jersey convenient to major highways and in close proximity to New York.

Beginning its second century of service to commercial business interests, individuals, public institutions, and charitable organizations, Schenck, Price, Smith & King offers a wide range of services. As one of New Jersey’s leading law firms, we are proud of our long history of excellence and integrity. We remain committed to service to our clients and possess the resources and expertise to meet their needs. These characteristics have created a professional environment that attracts top quality legal talent and develops extraordinary expertise from within.
