Schenck, Price, Smith & King LLP Is Pleased to Welcome New Counsel to Firm

~ 2026 sees law firm's historic growth continue~

Florham Park, NJ - Schenck, Price, Smith & King LLP is pleased to announce Noah Shier has joined the firm as Counsel in the firm's Corporate and Business Law Practice Group, as well as the Intellectual Property Practice Group. This latest hire is part of the firm's growth trajectory as it continues to provide more complex and sophisticated services to its client.

Noah focuses on mergers and acquisitions; post-closing integration; corporate structure issues; due diligence; entity formation; corporate governance; and other commercial agreements and transactions. In addition, he regularly addresses licensing, cybersecurity, and data privacy matters in a variety of industries.

Noah previously worked in the technology and intellectual property transactions department of two New York big law firms, handling an array of complex matters for public and private fintech, information technology and healthcare technology entities. His practice included a particular emphasis on intellectual property and technology issues.

Noah holds a BS in Mechanical Engineering and an MS in Engineering Management Systems from Columbia University. Prior to attending law school, he worked as a reliability engineer for Hasbro, Inc. for a number of years.

According to John E. Ursin, Managing Partner, "as the firm grows, we are providing services to our clients in increasingly complex and sophisticated matters. Noah is a very bright, extremely capable young attorney. He joins us from one of the prominent Mergers and Acquisitions law firms in NYC. He will immediately become a very
