Schenck, Price, Smith & King LLP Is Pleased to Welcome Family Law Partner To Firm

~ Law Firm Experiencing Unchartered Expansion ~

Florham Park, NJ – Schenck, Price, Smith & King LLP is pleased to announce that Taryn R. Zimmerman has joined the firm as a Partner in Schenck Price’s Family Law Practice Group. This hire reflects the firm’s continued growth and commitment to providing comprehensive legal services to clients.

Taryn joins the firm with a track record of shaping New Jersey law. Most notably, she was an integral part of the landmark 2023 NJ Supreme Court decision in Cardali v. Cardali, 255 N.J. 85 (2023). This pivotal case fundamentally changed the landscape of alimony in New Jersey, easing the burden on individuals seeking to terminate alimony due to a former spouse’s cohabitation. By clarifying the "prima facie" requirements, Taryn helped strengthen the position of alimony payors and simplified the path to legal discovery.

With a robust financial background, Taryn is a formidable advocate for high-net-worth individuals. She specializes in untangling the intricate business and asset-related issues that often complicate family law disputes. Whether she is representing families in complex financial litigation or drafting comprehensive co-parenting agreements for unmarried couples, Taryn balances strategic representation with a focus on the well-being of the children involved. Taryn has also built a strong reputation handling sensitive interstate custody and relocation matters.

Navigating the complexities of domestic violence cases requires both empathy and strategy. Taryn’s extensive experience includes successfully obtaining and defending against restraining orders in domestic violence cases, ensuring her clients' rights and well-being are thoroughly protected.

Taryn is a Member of the New Jersey State Bar Association – Family Law Section and the Somerset County Bar Association. She earned her law degree from Seton Hall University School of Law and a B.S. in Criminal Justice from Kutztown University of Pennsylvania.

John E. Ursin, Managing Partner, commented that the firm is thrilled to have Taryn join us. She is clearly a leader in her field, and her skills, experience, and results have made her a go to choice for high-net-worth individuals. She is a great person who will fit well into the Schenck Price culture, but she is also passionate about advocating for her clients and securing the best outcomes possible. She really is the perfect leader to grow our Family Law practice.
